Greetings from the President

Dear Sweet Briar Girls:

I am given the opportunity to send you a greeting in the first number of your current year's bulletin, and bidden to talk, not on college policies, nor on what Alma Mater hopes and expects from her daughters, but just as one fellow to another when they have not seen each other for some time. I have done many things since I have seen some of you and a few things since I have seen any of you.

We all acknowledge that Sweet Briar is a beautiful place to live, and many of you have no idea how delightful it can be even through the summer months, but all the same there come times when one should leave, and I deemed this summer such a time for me. I took what was left of your old Alumnae Secretary—and I must say that she seemed completely intact—and went to Europe. We patriotically left on the Republic on July the fourth, and began at once to think about other things.

We were booked for Plymouth, but we succeeded in changing our minds in mid-ocean and consequently had four delightful days in Ireland, and did actually kiss the Blarney Stone. There was a bit of England, two London weeks, a few hours of airplane to Ostend, much

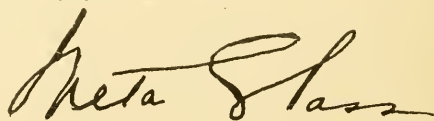

France and ten delightful days in Switzerland. Though completely unofficially, I attended the meetings of the International Federation of University Women in Geneva—I believe there has been somebody from Sweet Briar at every one that has been held—and enjoyed foregathering with American, English, French and Swiss workers in the association, and meeting casually many others. The proceedings will come to you in better form than I could give them, and I shall not include such in this letter.

The high spot after that was ten days spent in Normandy, Brittany and Tourraine in a Citroen car which Kay Norris drove. We wandered where we would, picnicked in apple orchards, beside the sea, in the Forest of Fontainebleau: took in an old Breton lady ladened with two long loaves of bread and cord bags full of Heaven-knows-what and deposited her with a surprised and chortling family. We gathered up a lot of veritable gamins at Carnac and let one of them, a boy about ten, act as our guide among the monuments. He had learned a prodigious lot and would suffer no interruption in giving it forth, except a regular deep-sea taking of breath to last him another three sentences.

Our last week, which made our third visit to Paris, we spent on the left bank at 93 Boulevard St. Michel, an International Student Hostel now in new and luxurious form on the site of the old building where I guided the Summer School for European Women just after the war, in the summer of 1919.

The weeks afforded one fresh pleasure after another, the picnics, the opera in Paris, the Rhone glacier, swimming in Lake Lucerne, and doing our sightseeing—a lot of it too—casually and not as an occupation. You will smile at the next sentence, but you ought to be prepared for it. After all this, and despite the new building mess not yet cleaned up, Sweet Briar did look as lovely and as satisfying as we always expect it to be. I am glad I went. I am glad I am here again. I hope to see many of you during the year.

Faithfully yours,

Dedication of Mary Helen Cochran Library

Few things that have happened at Sweet Briar have aroused more interest and enthusiasm than the announcement, at the very opening of the endowment and building campaign in 1928, of the gift of a new library by Mr. Fergus Reid. A new library under any circumstances would have been a great event in Sweet Briar's life, but coming at such a time, as the gift of an old and true friend of the college and in memory of his mother, Mary Helen Cochran, it aroused more than ordinary interest among all those who are concerned with Sweet Briar and its future. It is natural, therefore, that the laying of the cornerstone of the new building should have constituted one of the most important features of the Commencement of 1929.

This event took place on the afternoon of Monday, June 3, in the presence of a large gathering of students, faculty, alumnae and the many guests who had come to Sweet Briar for Commencement, and was marked by appropriate ceremonies. A small platform had been erected in the quadrangle formed by the new library building between Academic and Fletcher Hall, and here gathered the little procession of those taking part in the program.

President Glass acted as mistress of ceremonies and opened the proceedings with a speech in which she told what the library would mean to Sweet Briar and expressed the college's gratitude to Mr. Reid. She then presented Mr. Reid to the audience, to most of whom he needed no introduction, and he responded gracefully to the very enthusiastic applause.

Mr. Arthur Morris, of New York and Virginia, a close personal friend of Mr. Reid, made the principal address of the occasion, in which he emphasized the educational and cultural opportunities and advantages of Sweet Briar; and he was followed by Miss Helen Reid Bryan, of Philadelphia, a niece of Mr. Reid and a granddaughter of Mary Helen Cochran. Miss Bryan gave the most charming talk in which she depicted in a vivid and delightful manner her personal recollections of her grandmother, whose memory the library is designed to perpetuate, so that to all who heard her the personality of Mary Helen Cochran became a charming reality.

At the conclusion of Miss Bryan's speech President Glass read a prayer to all grandmothers which had been written to Mary Helen Cochran by a friend, Grace Ford Gholson, and then displayed the various articles which were to be placed inside the cornerstone, and which consisted of a lucky coin, a copy of the 1929 Briar Patch, which was dedicated to Mr. Reid; copies of all issues of the Sweet Briar News which contained notices or mentions of the proposed new library, beginning with the issue in which the announcement of the gift had been made; a photograph of Mary Helen Cochran, and a copy of the prayer. These were placed in a metal box by President Glass and presented to Mr. Reid, and he put them in the massive cornerstone and sealed it into its place in the foundations of the building. The ceremonies came to a conclusion with the singing of the Sweet Briar song.

Work has gone forward steadily on the library all during the summer and it is now almost completed and will be occupied in the very near future. It is a beautiful building, spacious and well-designed, and more than lives up to Sweet Briar's architectural standard. The first official occasion which will take place within its walls will be on Founders' Day, when an oil painting of Mary Helen Cochran will be hung over the mantel in the Browsing Room. And if any alumnae who read this do not know what the Browsing Room is, let them come back to Sweet Briar and see for themselves. It is worth the trip.

GIFTS ANNOUNCED AT COMMENCEMENT TIME

The Class of 1929 gave $165 to the College, just what this will be used for being at this time undecided. The final decision will, however, be announced in a later issue.

President Glass announced the gift of $7,000 for the Library use from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. This gift is of special interest to us as we are about to move to the new Library.

The Cincinnati Club and Miss Simrall, who formerly held the Chair of Psychology at Sweet Briar, are giving the College a portrait of former President McVea. It is hoped that the portrait will arrive in time for Founders' Day, that those who return will have the opportunity of viewing it.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ALUMNAE JUNE 3, 1929

The regular annual meeting of the Sweet Briar Alumnae Association was held on June 3rd at 2:30 p. m. in Fletcher Auditorium with President Banister presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted. Announcement was made by the Cincinnati Club that a portrait of former President McVea would be presented to the College next Founders' Day. Miss Simrall was given a vote of thanks for the $250.00 that she donated toward the portrait, and the secretary was instructed to write her a note of thanks. Announcement was made of the meeting of the New York Club June 14th, 1929. The report of the Alumnae Secretary of the work accomplished for the years 1926-1929, inclusive, was read.

At the conclusion of the reading of the proposed revision of the constitution Isabel Luke Witt moved that the constitution be accepted as read, Edna Lee seconded the motion. Motion carried.

At the conclusion of the reading of the By-Laws, Katherine Blount moved they be accepted as read, Louise Hammond Skinner seconded the motion. Discussion followed regarding Reunions. Henrietta Washburn moved to amend the motion by striking out the words "second, fifth, tenth, fifteenth, twentieth, etc., year after graduation" and inserting the words "Dix System." Dorothy Wallace seconded the amendment. Motion to amend was carried. The motion to accept the By-Laws as amended was carried.

President Banister announced the resignation of Katherine Norris and the appointment of Vivienne Barkalow Breckenridge as Alumnae Secretary.

Miss Norris announced the formation of the Academic Procession.

President Banister announced the bonfire would begin at ten o'clock and all would please meet in front of Fergus Reid, garbed in caps and gowns.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

VIVIENNE Barkalow BRECKENRIDGE,
Acting Secretary of the Meeting.

(Editor's Note: A full explanation of the Dix System as it will apply to Sweet Briar Reunions will be announced at a later date.)

REPORT OF THE ALUMNAE SECRETARY—JUNE 3, 1929

The report of the Alumnae Secretary for the work accomplished and the progress made in the Sweet Briar Alumnae Association since September, 1926, is as follows:

I. The computing of a set of six files containing—

1. The Alphabetical File.
2. The Geographical File (married names; arranged by state; towns and cities within the state; Alumnae Clubs with nearby towns included in Clubs.)
3. The Class File (the list is complete, the information not complete.)
4. The Married File.
5. The General File.
6. The 1928 Campaign File.

A complete record of the organization and results.

II. Clubs.

The Sweet Briar Alumnae Association has grown in three years from six Clubs to twenty-six active groups which takes in 47% of the Alumnae. There are twelve more cities with enough Sweet Briar girls residing in or near it that are ready for organization, that is, another 7% which will make a total of 54% of organized Alumnae—or over half. This is a rather good proportion when consideration is taken of the fact that our Alumnae are so widely scattered.

III. Lost Alumnae.

Over three hundred Alumnae have incorrect addresses in the Alumnae files. Most of these are Academy girls or those who attended Sweet Briar less than a year. Continued effort is made to locate this group.

IV. Membership.

Before 1926 there were not more than two hundred members to the Alumnae Association. The June, 1929, Treasurer's report shows 400 members and 136 Life Members, making a total of 536 members.

V. Publications.

All publications have been sent out gratis and for the most part to the entire body of Alumnae. The number has varied according to the state of the Treasury.

In 1926-27 there was issued one mimeograph news letter; one Bulletin containing news and an alphabetical alumnae list; and the Commencement announcement.

In 1927-28 there was issued two Bulletins containing campus, faculty and alumnae news, and office reports; a Register with alphabetical, geographical and married lists; and the Commencement announcement. The Campaign headquarters issued four Campaign newspapers and one "Sweet Briar News" to all Alumnae to keep them informed about the progress of the Campaign.

In 1928-29 there has been issued an "Alumnae News," the 1929 Register and the Commencement announcement. More publications have been impossible due to lack of funds.

VI. Finances.

The 1925 Alumnae Booklet shows $780 for running expenses. The amount the Association has had to run on in the past three years is as follows:

1926-27	$ 948.00
1927-28	$4,395.58
1928-29	$2,489.00 (approximately

The slack in the past year is due in part to the natural slump after the Campaign and that Cincinnati is concentrating on supplying half the amount necessary for the painting of a portrait of Miss McVea.

The Association is run entirely from dues and the Club contributions. The college supplies the office and the traveling expenses of the secretary.

VII. Returning Alumnae.

Plans for the returning Alumnae are made by the Secretary. The college has always invited graduates back for a week during the year and non-graduates for three days. In June of 1927 the idea was conceived for turning over Fergus Reid Dormitory for Alumnae occupancy during Commencement week-end. The number of Alumnae returning for Commencement has increased from very few to anywhere from seventy to a hundred.

VIII. Travel.

It has been found to be a good and well-liked policy for an alumni representative to travel as much as possible to give the "glad hand" and keep the scattered alumnae informed.

In 1926-27 the Sweet Briar Alumnae Secretary did little or no travel, being employed by the college half time and the Alumnae half time. The college sent her to the American Alumni Council meeting, held that year at North Carolina University, that she might have the opportunity of meeting the Alumni Secretaries from colleges and universities all over the United States and Canada and find out how things were accomplished in big and little institutions. She also attended occasional meetings of the Clubs in the eastern cities.

In 1927-28 the Alumnae Secretary made an extensive tour of most of the cities in the south and middle west for the purpose of forming new Clubs. During the Campaign most of the country east of the Mississippi and Texas was covered by President Glass, the President of the Alumnae Association and the four Field Directors, one of whom was the Alumnae Secretary.

In 1928-29 the Alumnae Secretary again attended the Regional meeting of the American Alumni Council held in Macon, Georgia, and spoke at the local district meeting held in Richmond.

The new Alumnae Secretary, Mrs. Vivienne Barkalow Breckenridge, '18, will attend the annual meeting of the American Alumni Council to be held in Toronto the last of June and therefore will be fitted to "step-in" to the Alumnae work in the fall of 1929.

1924 MADE SPLENDID HOSTESSES

Gwendolyn Watson Graham presided with rare charm, and excellent poise at the Senior banquet. Her degree of T. M. was well deserved. She introduced the two speakers of the evening, President Glass and President Banister. Miss Glass gave interesting bits of campus "gossip," which included news of the Browsing Room in the Library for the very special use of the Alumnae. She divulged the plans of Miss Mattie and Miss Gay to build their own home. Margaret Banister welcomed the Class of 1929 into the Association and also welcomed President Glass into our fold as she was emerging from her first four years as President of Sweet Briar. It was indeed a fitting tribute to President Glass as she, too, had "done" her four years with a perfection equal to none, she is truly our Honor scholar of all times.

CAMPUS CHATTER

For those interested in movies of Commencement, Grace Merrick Twohy "trod where angels fear to tread" and secured many intriguing pictures. Her address is 1425 Bowling Avenue, Norfolk, Va., just in case the idea appeals to you.

The Tri-City girls, namely, J. Von Maur Crampton, Eleanor Harned Arp, Elsie Wood Von Maur, and Louise Harned deserve the prize for coming from the longest distance. They motored, and it's a long and bumpy trip—but they all received a glorious welcome.

As the Initiation of the Graduating Class is secret, do come back that you, too, may know its charms.

Lantern Night is truly a delightful custom. For those from the dim, dark past, before the advent of Lantern Night we want you to know that on this night the Seniors don their caps and gowns and form a line in front of Academic. The Sophomores garb themselves in white pajamas with ruffs around their necks. The Seniors all carry lanterns and accompanied by the Sophomores they march to the "Golden Stairs" where each Senior, before she takes her place on the stairs, gives her lantern to a Sophomore. The Sophomores form a circle facing the Seniors and, with the lighted lanterns at their feet, they sing their farewells to the Seniors, who in turn respond. This ceremony begins about ten-thirty and lasts far into the night—the Alumnae are lulled to sleep by soft sweet tones in the distance—those of us seeing this for the first time found it truly fascinating.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES JUNE 4, 1929

Dr. Augustus T. Murray of Washington, D. C., gave the Commencement address. Not only the Seniors but the Faculty, Alumnae, and guests deeply appreciated Dr. Murray's gift of oratory.

High Hopes and How

The Sweet Briar Alumnae Association begins its fourth year of active work in its own office in a frame of mind not unlike that of the Seniors, who though still members of the college look forward to new achievements as they go "out into the wide, wide world." Next June when we view the year in retrospect we hope that one of these achievements will be a successful experiment in Adult Education. That this movement is important is indicated by the fact that the Aims and Policy Committee of the American Alumnae Council has joined with a Committee of the American Association for Adult Education to study the possibilities of continuing education after graduation. We await the findings of this Committee with interest.

As we go to press, details of the plan are being worked out which will be sent to your Club Presidents. However, while we are planning and thinking along these lines, let us have your ideas. We know that you too have been thinking. What have you gleaned that will be a help to us? Where College ends, Life takes up the business of Education in a variety of ways. Let us have the benefit of your advanced studies. We want to pass on to those, who have been too busy to pursue their work further, the advantages of your experiences. What are your ideas of sharing Adult Education with each other? These ideas should be a stimulation to each of us, in one of the pressing problems of our Alumnae World.

Your Sweet Briar Clubs will form the medium through which the ideas will progress, slowly at first, but surely. It is in our own Clubs that our hopes, for realizing this ambition, are centered. Please do contact your Clubs, for they have done excellent things. They have been the backbone of our organization, without them we could not exist—and so it is to them that we look for co-operation and help in this our Graduating Year.

Wanted, a Name

Sweet Briar's new landmarks, Miss Crawford's and Miss Roger's house (on the left) and Miss Mattie's and Miss Gay's house are like the man without a country, for they are on a road without a name. These houses are on the road which recent graduates will remember as the "Road to Rhea's." Older Sweet Briar girls will possibly recall it as the first part of the road traveled when they walked the back way to Amherst. Let genius burn and send your ideas to the Alumnae office.

Founders' Day

Founders' Day will be this year on October 25. All Alumnae and former students are urged to attend. Please bring your cap and gown, if you have one. if not. come anyway, and take your place in the Academic Procession.

News of the Art Exhibit

Beginning November 1st and lasting to the 25th, the Art Department will have an exhibit of paintings. There will be thirty canvasses, all of which were painted by the faculty of the Grand Central School of Art in New York City. Some of the artists include the well-known names of Wayman Adams, Edmund Greacen, John R. Koopman, Henry B. Snell, Howard L. Hildebrant, Arshele Gorby, Ezsa Winter, Frank Hazell, and George Pearse Ennis.

The New Organ

The new organ is a Moller, and is very modern with electric action. It has eighteen Stops and ten Couplers. The organ was installed late in September in time for Convocation on the 19th.

Did You Know That

Sweet Briar has raised its academic standard? Formerly the minimum requirements for the degree were one hundred and twenty hours of half merit grades. Using the new system of credit points this means that a student could secure the degree with an average of less than 1.0. Counting A as 3, B as 2, C as 1, the credit ratio now required for class standing and the degree, is 1.0, which means a C average. This system is similar to those in practice at many of the leading universities and colleges.

Beginning with the academic year 1929-1930, the college will enter upon a four-year experiment of accepting Solid Geometry and Trigonometry as electives for entrance.

Sweet Briar is offering a new major in American Problems to candidates for the A. B. and B. S. degrees. Under this plan, a student will take a large proportion of her elective hours during her Junior and Senior years under the guidance of the allied departments of History, Political Science, Sociology and Economics. She will be enabled to focus her attention during these last two years in college upon the American Scene as touched by all of these departments. In this experimental year, one member of the class of '30, has registered for this work.

The French department is undertaking, for the General Educational Board, and at the request of Swathmore College Library, a Romance section of a standard bibliography for college libraries.

Miss Francis Russell, Professor of Spanish and Italian at Sweet Briar from 1924-1928, took her Docteur es Lettres at Toulouse University, France, in 1929. Her dissertation was L'Art d'Albert Samain, a critical treatment of the esthetic doctrine of the poet. A copy of this has just been received by Mr. Worthington and is being presented to the library.

* * * *

Miss Emily Dutton motored to Ogunquit, New York, for July. Miss Glass accompanied her as far as New York City. August found Miss Dutton enjoying a visit with relatives in Cleveland. She has come back enthusiastic over the air races that were held there late in August. Miss Dutton has completed the chapter on the Southern Association of College Women for the volume containing the history of the American Association of University Women to be published at the time of the semi-centennial meeting in 1931. Fifty years ago the Association of College Alumnae was started, in 1921 this Association merged with the Southern Association of College Women to form what is today known as the American Association of University Women. Miss Dutton also plans to write a biographical sketch of Miss Elizabeth Avery Colton who was President of the Southern Association of College Women from 1914-1919. Miss Colton was the editor of most of the important bulletins of the Southern Association of College Women on "Standards of Colleges." This article will also be included in the "History of the American Association of University Women."

Dr. Harley spent the summer at her home in Cragmoor, Ulster County, New York. Her cousin and the new baby spent most of the summer with her.

Mr. Worthington spent the summer at his camp "Allegha" near White Sulphur Springs. This was the eighth year for the camp, which numbers some 200 people. The Rifle and Shooting Camps were the champions of the United States for the seventh successive year.

Miss McLaws spent most of her summer in Washington, D. C., visiting her sister, who lives near Rock Creek Park. Much of her time was spent in painting; she did, however, motor over to Annapolis for a ten-day trip.

Miss Sparrow went to Evanston, Ill. for the early part of the summer, where she did some studying at Northwestern University. She spent the latter part of the vacation in Boston.

The many friends of Miss Morenus will be sorry to learn of the death of her father the early part of June. Miss Morenus remained at her home in Cleveland, N. Y., for the summer. Her nephew, who has just recovered from a year's illness, was with her most of the time.

Miss Czarnomska spent a delightful summer visiting with her many old friends and acquaintances.

Dr. Ames motored to the Big Smokies in Tennessee with a group of Botanists from Wellesley, University of Tennessee, and Agnes Scott College. From there she went on to her home in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Miss Crawford spent most of the summer enjoying her new home at Sweet Briar. Toward the end of the vacation she spent a week in New York.

Dr. Folsom gave a course in Sociology at the University of New Hampshire during the summer session. His second text book, SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY, will be published shortly after the first of the year. Dr. and Mrs. Folsom are now living in Lynchburg.

Dr. Conner spent a quiet vacation this year camping in Canada on the north shore of Lake Erie. After putting the finishing touches on his book on Canadian literature, since published, he spent the remainder of the summer painting in that picturesque locality. Twenty-five of the resulting sketches in watercolor are now being exhibited in the art room. Dr. Conner added to the publications by Sweet Briar professors with the appearance of ARCHIBALD LAMPMAN, CANADIAN POET OF NATURE. This biography and critique of a poet who was "discovered" for the United States by William Dean Howells and whose work appeared in American magazines during the 80's and 90's, is a very readable treatment not only of the poet and his friends, such as Bliss Carman and Hamlin Garland, but also successfully recaptures the spirit of that period of American letters.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott drove to Iola, Kansas, shortly after the close of college with Mr. Scott's brother who had just returned from France. They spent a month in the West and then returned to Sweet Briar. A second daughter, Betty Ruth, was born August 27.

Dr. Edwards left, at the close of college, with his family and motored to Clinton, N. Y., for the marriage of Mrs. Edwards' brother. In August, Dr. Edwards, accompanied by his brother, motored through Virginia seeing its many celebrated gardens, and then spent some time in Washington, D. C.

Miss Bartlett spent considerable time on the Connecticut shore and is back with a beautiful sun tan. She spent many interesting hours reading and browsing through the Yale Library.

News of Dr. Raymond's trip may be found under the class notes of 1929.

Miss Frazer spent a delightful summer visiting her family. Horse-back riding, motoring, and reading consumed much of her time.

Miss Long, who returns after a year's leave of absence, has been engaged in research work at Columbia University. Her studies were in 18th century English Literature.

Dr. Mull spent most of her summer at her home in Reading, Pa. She did, however, spend a week visiting at Vassar College, two weeks at Cambridge, Mass., where she used the Harvard library, and later a week at Yale, attending the 9th International Congress of Psychology.

Dr. Benedict spent her summer in the country in New York State resting and studying. She has entirely recovered from her recent operation.

Dr. de Boer was in Bermuda during June, later she visited in Chicago and Long Island.

Mr. William Edwards spent the summer studying for his Ph. D. at Ohio State University. While there he joined Pi Sigma Alpha, a national honorary fraternity of Political Science. Mr. Edwards, in addition to his work at Sweet Briar, is teaching political science and American history for the University of Virginia Extension Department.

Miss Reynolds spent the late summer in New York City seeing the new plays.

Miss Rogers spent the early part of the summer in her new home at Sweet Briar. Later she visited her home in Paris, Ky., and also attended a hockey camp at Mount Pocono, Pa.

Mr. Martin spent some time in Maryland but returned to Sweet Briar in time to supervise the installation of the new organ.

Miss Weaver recovered sufficiently from an operation to carry out her plans of going to Europe for the music festivals. She was in England for the Haslemere Chamber Music Festival and attended the Wagner Festival in Munich. She traveled through Italy and Switzerland and spent some weeks in Paris before returning to this country.

Dr. Hague motored to Wisconsin and Michigan this summer. When she returned to college this fall she was accompanied by her mother, who will spend the winter with her.

Madame Johnson studied at Johns Hopkins where she is working for an advanced degree. While there she collaborated with Dr. Havens from Ohio University a critical edition of one of Voltaire's work, CANDIDE.

At the close of college Miss Robinson left for her home in Berkeley, California, where she spent a month. She went to Harvard for the summer session and was one of the group of the Carnegie students. She took a course in Fine Arts and studied at the Fogg Museum in Boston, and also much time was spent in the museum in Worcester, Mass., and Providence, R. I. At the close of the course the Carnegie students were each given a sum of money for material for their departments. Miss Robinson returned with plaster casts of famous pieces of Greek sculpture, and slides on Greek and Roman archæology. Following her studies she spent the remainder of the summer in Vermont, Massachusetts and New York.

Mrs. Wailes spent her summer at Sweet Briar resting and recovering from a recent illness.

Mr. Wilkinson spent his summer teaching school in Northern Michigan.

Miss Wainwright went to Nova Scotia for a month, from there she went to New York City where she worked in the music section of the 42nd and 58th Street Libraries. The remainder of the time she spent in Connecticut and Long Island.

Miss Dickason returns to Sweet Briar after a year's leave of absence. She spent the winter studying at Columbia University and the summer was spent on a farm in New Jersey.

Miss Bower did some studying and teaching at the Syracuse University, and then enjoyed a few weeks of vacation.

Miss Goreth was married the middle of August to Mr. Cornelius Hunt, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barrett. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Hunt attended camp at Sloatsburg, New York.

Miss Boudreaux returned to her home in New Orleans for the summer where she spent much of the time reading, playing golf, and swimming.

Miss Pearl spent the summer session at the University of Michigan working on her dissertation. At the close of the session she returned to her home for the remainder of the summer.

Miss Ramage motored to Maryland and then on to New York visiting friends on the way. She spent some time in New York City before returning to Sweet Briar this fall.

Miss Badger finished her work for her B. S. degree this summer at the New York University. Later in the summer she attended school at Camp Sebago and she was also at the Hockey Camp at Mount Pocono.

Miss Steptoe after leaving college motored through Virginia, spending several weeks at Woodbury Forest.

Miss Gay Patteson spent the summer with friends in Warren, Rhode Island.

Mrs. Lill sailed for Europe on June 15th. She had an interesting trip from Paris to Berlin by plane. Her itinerary included a visit to Dresden, Switzerland, the Alps, and a boat trip down the Rhine.

NEW FACULTY

Miss Doris Lomar left her work as Head Cataloger in the library of McGill University and has come to Sweet Briar to take charge of the new Mary Helen Cochran Library. Miss Lomar spent her summer motoring through Sicily seeing the Greek Temples. From Sicily she went into Rome and studied there. Later she motored through northern Italy and Dolomites, and sailed for the States from Trieste.

Miss Johanna Stockholm and Mr. J. D. Bennett are the two new members of the English department. Miss Stockholm, who has her masters degree from the University of Copenhagen, Denmark, has practically completed the work for her Ph. D. at Bryn Mawr. Miss Stockholm comes to Sweet Briar after five years as research assistant at the University of Copenhagen, and three years of instructing in the English department at Smith. Mr. Bennett comes as an Assistant Professor of English. He is a Yale graduate, and for three years he was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford. He has spent considerable time traveling in Japan, China, India, and Europe. Prior to his coming to Sweet Briar, Mr. Bennett has been teaching in the English department at Yale.

Miss Hilda Harpster, who took her A. B. degree at Sweet Briar in 1927, received her M. A. last June from the University of Michigan. While studying for her M. A. she was assistant in the Biology department. This summer she did additional work at the Michigan Biological Station.

Miss Jean Rodgers, B. A., from Mount Holyoke is to be in the Chemistry department. Miss Rodgers has been an assistant in that department at Mount Holyoke since her graduation there in 1927.
